Dec. Thues. 7, 1852

A light frost
A nice cold day
Clear.

My father & I did a bit of work
made a fence
around the feed lot, fixed the feed lot up to where the hogs
eat in it.
Then I stuck a part of a board of oak and pounded in the boards.

A windy day.
Late helped me
get work.
Tommy Lewis
shucked a load of corn.
Also in again some of full on the way flanking the group.

Jan. Dec. 30
A month's plowing
day. Chas. and staff took the little mule
and hauled up to the house Ella & I went up to the cemetery and settled up with Richman's

Sat. Dec. 31
A bad snow
day. Snow a little after the noon. Dug the evening. It snowed
hard.
I had fished
at the stable
and stalk out
all day.
Snow came down and is here to night.
The harvest
is better.
Ella has her
leg to die.
And so they wind up the old year of 1888.
